Design-Competition Stove Flame 2021

It's time again.

The starting signal for the design-competition „Stove Flame 2021“ has been given. This competition is organized by the ZVHSK and the magazine „Kamine & Kachelöfen“, a publication of the Fachschriften-Verlag. Furthermore the competition is sponsored by AdK and VEUKO.

Every stove and air heating expert can take part.

Individually designed and handprovided stoves/chimneys, for example basic stoves, hot air stoves, heating chimneys, hypocaust heating systems and cookers will be awarded a prize.

Prize money to the amount of 4.000 Euros.

Moreover, winners will be given the opportunity to present their stove and company effectively on a double page in the magazine „Kamine & Kachelöfen“.

The lucky winners of the year 2019. You can find more information about the award show at www.ofenwelten.de/ofenflamme2019/

Conditions of participation

Eligible are all stove- and air heating experts. You can submit individually planned and handprovided stoves/ chimneys such as basic stoves, hot air stoves, heating chimneys, hypocaust heating systems and cookers. Of course, multiple submissions are possible. International submissions are welcome. Systems that have already been submitted in the competition 2015, 2017 and 2019 are excluded from participation in 2021. When participating in that contest, you accept the given conditions. Detailed conditions of participation can be found at www.ofenwelten.de/ofenflamme or www.zvhs.de. The organizers of this design competition are authorized to publish all submitted documents (for example photos and descriptions) within the scope of a documentation, other publications and representations as well as an exhibition free of charge mentioning the name of the participant. Participants confirm that they, the house owners and the originators of the submitted photos approve of the uses called here for publications. Thus they place the necessary documents at our disposal free of charge.

The jury's decision making process will not be published. The legal process is excluded.

PHOTOS:

Maximum 4 digital photos with at least 72 dpi with 10 x 15 cm as JPG- or Tiff-file. A short description of the stove makes the judgement easier. In addition to the photos an individual hint to your video-link is possible.
